Base Limited Warranty- This is the manufacturer's limited parts warranty. If the product isn't registered within 60 days of the installation and start-up, the Base Limited Warranty will be in effect. This warranty remains in effect up to its term regardless of change in ownership of the home and is fully transferable. Registered Limited Warranty- This is a limited parts warranty with longer terms that requires product registration within 60 days of installation/start-up. The Registered Limited Warranty is available to the original purchaser or homeowner and is not transferable to subsequent homeowners. The Registered Limited Warranty will be in effect for products installed in single family owner occupied residential applications upon valid registration of the installed products. Second homes also qualify if the homeowner lives in the house a minimum of two weeks per year. Dedicated income properties or commercial properties are not eligible for the Registered Limited Warranty. There are a few residential products for which the Base and Registered Limited Warranty have the same coverage term. The homeowner and Dealer may register the product(s) online at www.trane.com or call the Warranty Registration (800)554-6413. Anything produced before 1/26/2006 (NAECA II) is not eligible for Registered Limited Warranty terms. For those products, see the ship with literature for Limited Warranty coverage. Registered Allegiance and Heritage Matched System Warranty- When purchased and installed on eligible applications as a matched system, including an American Standard indoor unit and comfort control, all Allegiance and Heritage split systems that are registered within 60 days will receive a 10-year system limited warranty which will be noted on the Registered Limited Warranty Certificate. Third party comfort controls and coils may qualify as components of an AHRI matched system, if registered at the same time as the other system components.
